ACCOMAC COURT-HOUSE, VA.

SATURDAY, JULY 30, 1887.

Entered at the Postoffice at Accomac, C. H., Va., as second-class matter.

The Democratic convention which meets at Roanoke, on the 4th of August, promises to be a harmonious one, if the spirit which seems to have been manifested in the appointment of delegates, controls that body. In many counties the best men were selected and entrusted with instructions of any kind were empowered to act as in their judgment the best interest of the State demanded—in other counties where resolutions were adopted, there is a wonderful unanimity in the temper and sentiment which characterizes them. The debt question has been the main issue which has been debated in the county conventions, and the report of the proceedings show that the party in all sections of the State is determined to adhere to the Riddleberger bill. Their proceedings have been, however, merely advisory and have indicated a temper to abide by the acts of the State convention, if in its judgment a departure from some of the features of the Riddleberger settlement should be recommended. In the main, though, it is likely to be endorsed, as it accords too well with the sentiment of the voters of all parties in the State to counsel differently. The methods of enforcing the creditors to accept the terms of settlement as provided in the Riddleberger bill, is a matter requiring more considerations and it is to be hoped that the convention may be patriotic and wise enough to suggest the plan.

"Colored men, get money and education. The former enables you to get fire-arms, the latter teaches you how to use them."

The above paragraph appears in a late issue of the Planet, a newspaper published in the city of Richmond, by a colored man, which claims to be organ of the colored race. We do not believe that many of the colored people will approve the incendiary advice given them, and even if they approved we presume that the most of them are too sensible to wish for a conflict between the two races, when a resort to fire-arms would be necessary. We publish the paragraph to show the hellish hate for the white race of some of the colored leaders, and to counsel the colored brothers to beware of them. The lesson which the advice of the Planet teaches may be read with profit also by some who are disposed to stray away from the Democratic fold.

Elder John Taylor, senior apostle and president of the Mormon Church, died last Monday, in the 50th year of his age. He succeeded Brigham Young in the presidency on the death of the latter in 1877. Taylor, despite the fact that he denied in his lifetime that polygamy was a doctrine of the Mormon Church, leaves behind him many women whom he called his wives to perpetuate his infamy.

Reuben Coles, colored, who criminally assaulted a respectable white lady in Surry county, Va., some two weeks ago was taken from jail and hanged last Tuesday by a masked body of fifty armed men. The apprehension that Coles might escape punishment through the quips and quirk of the law pressed the popular feelings to the point where violence was the only consequence.

Mr. S. P. Gresham, Republican, the newly elected clerk of Lancaster county, Va., was indicted at the last grand jury term of the county court, the charge being perjury, in that he had sworn that he was worth $1,000 over and above all his debts, in becoming one of the bondsmen for his son.

The Maryland Democratic State Convention, in session Wednesday at Baltimore, nominated the following State ticket: For Governor, Elihu E. Jackson, of Wicomico; Attorney-General, William Pinkney White, of Baltimore; Comptroller, L. Victor Baughman, of Frederick.

Mrs. Don P. Halsey, of Lynchburg, a sister of United States Senator Daniel, was elected lady superintendent of the State Normal School at Farmville by the Board of Trustees at their late meeting in Richmond.

VIRGINIA.—In the circuit court for the county of Accomac, in vacation, July 14th 1887.

John W. Gillet, a creditor of Sarah A. Parramore, deceased, who sues for himself and all other the unsatisfied creditors of the said Sarah A. Parramore, deceased who may come in and contribute their due proportion of the costs and expenses of this suit.....Plff. against

John H. Wise, sheriff of the county of Accomac, and as such administrator de bonis non with the will annexed of said Sarah A. Parramore, deceased, Annie S. Parker, the widow, and Otho L. Parker, Etta G. Parker, George D. Parker, Sarah T. Parker and Wm. Parker, the children and only heirs at law, of James H. Parker, deceased, Thomas H. Parramore and Angelina, his wife, Levi A. Purnell, John J. Blackstone, trustee in a deed of trust bearing date on the 2nd day of March 1881 from the said Thomas H. Parramore and Angelina, his wife, to him for the benefit of John W. Gillet, and the said John W. Gillet.....Defts.

IN CHANCERY.

The object of this suit is to subject the real estate in the county of Accomac, known as "Mount Wharton" whereof Sarah A. Parramore died seized and possessed, and which by her last will and testament she devised to her sons, James H. Parker and Thomas H. Parramore, to the payment of the debts of said testatrix.

Affidavit having been made before the clerk of the said court that Levi A. Purnell, one of the defendants in the above entitled cause, is a non resident of this State, on the motion of the plaintiff, by his attorneys, it is ordered that he do appear here within one month after due publication of this order and do what is necessary to protect his interests; and that this order be published once a week for four successive weeks in the "Peninsula Enterprise," a newspaper published at Accomac Court House in said county and also posted at the front door of the court house of the said county on the first day of the next term of the county court of the said county.

COMPANY.

MR. GEORGE W. HYNSON,

a representative of the

Gem Piano and Organ Company, of Washington, New Jersey, is now located at

for a few weeks. He has two car loads of organs here direct from their manufactory, and is now out on an advertising tour. Any one wishing to purchase an instrument, will do well by dealing with him, as you have no agent's commission to pay. Any one wishing to examine one of their instruments or desiring to take it on trial for a few days, can have it delivered at their homes, and if it does not prove entirely satisfactory, they are under no obligation to keep it. Parties having old pianos or organs, can get them exchanged for new ones, and they will be allowed what their instruments are worth. Now is the time to buy, as in dealing with Mr. Hynson, you deal direct with the manufacturers. They give a written guarantee on their organs for six years, to keep them in thorough repair. They give parties who purchase them time to pay for them, thereby coming within the reach of all. The names of a number of parties, who have purchased them in Maryland, and the upper part of Accomac are appended, and offered as reference.
